Country: España
Region: Andalucía
District: Huelva

Itinerary:
- Start: Barrancos (Portugal)
- Intermediate Points: Caseta de Flores - Puerto de Buena Vista - puente de Los Cabriles
- End: Encinasola (Spain)

Energy
- “waterhole source The Huerta de San Pedro”, old mine water of the stream Valquemado” and “of the valley of Múrtigas river”.

Descripción

We start in the vicinity of Barrancos (Portugal) toward to the border (better known as La Raya). After crossing it, we go into The Caseta de Flores, (an old border place now converted in a hall of nature). From here, we continue through La Colada de Enemedio until The Huerta de San Pedro where there is a waterhole source. We follow the Camino de la Contienda towards Puerto de Buena Vista. Some of us, we chose an alternative way to see an area of old orchards, crossing the stream of Valquemado over a wood trunk, where we can see an old mine water.
From Buena Vista, we start to descend until the riverside, enjoying the wonderfull views of the valley of Múrtigas river and the town of Encinasola. We also can observe a showy centenary olive in the Cortijo de la Zahurda. After a nice walk next to riverside (the river was very grown because of heavy rains) we arrive to the bridge of Los Cabriles built in the sixteenth century (which it is thought it was built on another bridge of Roman origin).
We continue ascending the Olivar de los Señorios until Pilar de Acá, and we enter the village through El Ensanche.
